ABRAHAM LINCOLN. - This distinguished competitor of Judge Douglas for the Illinois competitor of Judge Douglas for the Illinois Senatorship will address a meeting from the balcony of Mr. Kinsly's house, on Fifth-street, to-night. A committee has been appointed to meet Mr. L. on the cars before reaching the city, which will escort him to the Burnet House. At seven o'clock a pro-cession will be formed in front of the hotel, which will march to the Fifth-street marketspace to listen to the speech. It is the inspace to listen to the speech. It is the in-tention of the speaker to review the recent speech of Mr. Douglas, delivered here last week. Let everybody turn out and hear both sides—then act as their judgment may no One of the novelties of the Cincin nati street-railroad is a short-tailed yellow dog. To whom he belongs is a mystery, but he is certainly very favorably impressed with a reetrailroads. He has traveled in front of this car since the first trip, and, much to the a musoment of passengers, takes particular pains to keep the track clear of hogs, dogs, &c. We Probate Court on Wednesday. noticed him during one trip, yesterday, catch five hogs by the ear and lead them off the track. One of the officers of the Board is so much pleased with his valuable services that he intends furnishing him with a fine coller, which will bear an inscription certifying that he is the property of the Cincinnati Streetrailroad Company.

An attempt was made by a thief to enter the house of Mr. Thos. Orr, on Richmond-street, at an early hour yesterday morning. Mr. Orr has a very faithful bullterrier, who, hearing a noise at the door, (being inside the house,) jumped through the window and chased the thief off. Mr. Orr was aroused by the noise, and ran out in time to see the rascal making tracks with the dog close at his heels. Such a dog as that is worth keeping.

20 All persons wishing to attend the Episnopal Convention, to be held in Richmond, Va., next month, can go for half fare—paying full fare going, and be returned free on show ing their tickets. The tickets are to be had applying at the Marietta and Cincinnati Railroad office, No. 3 Burnet House. The route is over the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, via Marietta and Chillicothe.

ANOTHER NOVELTY .- The Old Dominion Coffee Pot long since became an "institution," and is so recognized the world over: but now we have the Old Dominion Coffee-Urn, which was placed on exhibition at the Mechanics' Fair a day or two ago. It is the same in application of scientific principles, and must become hugely popular. Jos. R. Greene, at No. 24 Pearl-street, is the western agent.

FILLING UP LOTS .- The City Council last night, appropriated one hundred and twentyfour dollars to H. G. Stiebel, and two hundred and fifty-seven dollars to Pat. Kilfoile, for filling up ponds of stagnant water. The former is an old claim, the latter on lot, west side of Park-street, between Second and Whitewater

"Paddy Smith, Esq.," lost two children last night, from "No. 22 Sausage-row," and by a notice left on the slate of the Hammondstreet Station-house, we learn that he fears
"they will wander out of the respectable part of the city where he lives, and get their morals corrupted by some of the lower classes of people!" Rather cool.

W. Lee, Mr. Andrew Hickenlooper (father of the Civil Engineer) was elected wood-measurer for the markets by the City Council, last evennight, in place of J. R. Hallam, resigned, who has been but a short while in office. Mr. H. is about taking the school census in one of the Enstern Districts.

Ar Rickey, Mallory & Co., Main-street, have received A Life for a Life, by the author of John Halifax, Gentleman, Olive Agatha's Husband and other popular novels. It is one of the Harper Brothers' series, which is in itself Lexington, yesterday. A silver cup was the a guarantee of merit.

A number of our citizens will visit Portland o the Great Eastern.

INKLINGS.

The driver of the street-railroad car is very much annoyed by bowlders being placed on the track along the line by "little urchins." This may be sport for the boys, but it certainly endangers the lives of passengers, especially after dark. The matter should be attended to by the police and the offenders punished.

We have been requested by a number of the members and friends of the Ohio Mechanics' Institute, to ask if the Board of Managers will gratify the "young folks," at the winding up of the present exhibition, with a dance at Pike's Opera-house. We are not prepared to answer, but certainly think they will.

A little boy, three years of age, son of Mr. Oliver Weatherby, strayed from his home day before yesterday, and although diligent search has been made by the parents and friends, he has not been found. Any information left at No. 307 Eighth-street will be thankfully rethe Orphan Asylum lot, day before yesterday. Dr. Warder, of this city, presided at the "Farmers' Discussions" at Chicago a few days since. This go-a-head horticulturist is good for council or action.

Mr. W. F. Glency was elected a member of the American Pharmaceutical Society of the United States, that is holding its session in Boston. The delegates from Cincinnati were reported absent on the first day.

Mr. A. B. Latta, of Cincinnati, inventor of the steam fire-engines, is at Evansville, Ind., cudeavoring to introduce them into that city. He is favorably received.

To-morrow evening, at half-past seven o'clock, Rev. Lorenzo Dow Huston, editor of the Home Circle, Nashville, Tenn., will preach in Asbury Chapel, Webster-street, between Main-street and Sycamore. Seats free. The new stocking-weeving machine to be exhibited at the Mechanics' Institute is to weave a pair of seamless breeches for Mr. George W. Runyan, the most attentive member of the Mechanica' and Manufacturers' Exchange. We understand that over seven hundred applications have been made for the conductor-ships on the various street-railroad routes in this city. A girl, fifteen years of age, disappeared from No. 288 Fifth-street, day before yesterday. She has not been heard from since, and fears are entertained that she has been foully dealt with. An old gentleman, whose name we could not learn, died at the Commercial Hospital last Wednesday evening. He had been in the hospital but a few hours previous to his

Be sure and read all the new adve tisements in the PENNY PRESS, this morning, and don't forget to look over the "want" columnt. We call the attention of our readers, mide and female, to Dr. Karshner's advertisement in our want column. Only twelve persons were tried in the Police Court yesterday, mostly drunks and lisorderlies. The street-railroad car ran until twelve 'clock last evening-heavy loads up, and down.

AMUSEMENTS.

WOOD'S THEATER.— To-night will be presented Don Casar Dr. Bayan and the Wert of the Wist-ton-Wiss—Miss Lucille as "Don Gazar," and Miss Helen as "Maritana," and "Naramattah." This is the last appearance of the star sisters, who have, during their engagement, created a host of admirers of their peculiar role of acting. We presume this announcement is sufficient to fill the house to overflowing.

LAW REPORT.

COMMON PLEAS.

The State vs. Sarah Merriweather. - The The State vs. Sarah Merriweather.—The defendant was on trial before Judge Carter and a jury, indicted for the larceny of a gold watch and chain and a pistol, the property of Andrew G. Burt. A second count in the indictment charged her with receiving the goods, knowing them to have been stolen.

It appeared that a man named William Martin had resided guilty to the larceny, and the main inquiry left for the jury was whether the present defendant, who kept a pawnbrokers' store, had received the articles knowing them to have been stolen.

ceivel the articles knowing them to have been stolen.

According to the testimony of Mr. Burt and the officers, she denied that she had the articles, though an offer of twenty-five dollars had been made to her if she would "stop" them, should they be offered in pledge. Subsequently she delivered them to a ceivered woman, who had been employed by the police, to redeem them on payment of twenty-five dollars.

The reasons she gave were, that for property heretofore surrendered to the police she had not been paid—and in the next place she did not know whether Officer Bloom or Mr. Ruffin (both of whom had applied) was the proper person to give them up to.

The argument was commenced by the Messrs, Mc. Groarty. It has not yet closed.

Would it not be well for some members of a certain City Council to print their speeches without delivering them? They have no effect on members, and if intended for their constituents, would much more effectually bore them.

NEWPORT NEWS.

A Ferocious Animal.—Yesterday, about noon, while one of our butchers was driving some beef-cattle along Belleview-street, one of them, a huge animal, broke from the rest, and becoming engaged at something, run up the street, goring all the dogs that came in his way, until he reached East-row: thenes down that street to Taylor, where a multitude of boys, just let loose from school, commenced hollooing, shouting and throwing stones, one of whom, a son of Mr. Schrog, paid dearly for his fun by being thrown over and badly injured by the infuriated beast. The animal continued down Taylor-street, followed by about two hundred boys and man, some with clubs, others with stones, endayoring to stop him, but he paid no attention to their efforts, save to pitch a couple of men out of his path, neither of whom was seriously injured. Arriving at the corner of Taylor and Cabbot, he stopped shout half an hour, and was surrounded by men and boys, who thought to stop him from doing further damage; but making a sudden spring at the crowd, he broke the arm of a boy named Ford. The animal was flashly shot on the common near the garrison.
